

Anadolu University Turkish Language and Culture Associate Degree Program Opens Applications for the 2025-2026 Academic Year

Anadolu University's Open Education Faculty has launched the Turkish Language and Culture Associate Degree Program for international students for the 2025-2026 academic year. The program aims to promote the teaching of Turkish on a global scale and to introduce Turkish culture to students from around the world.

The program is specifically designed for international students who:

- Wish to learn Turkish and improve their language skills at an academic level,
- Are interested in exploring Turkish culture more closely,
- Plan to enroll in higher education programs in Türkiye.

International students already enrolled at Anadolu University may also register for this program as part of a second degree option.

Key Features of the Program:

-  Preparatory class for candidates who do not have B2 level Turkish proficiency
-  Fully online courses
-  Content designed to enhance cultural belonging and support academic success

The program goes beyond language education, providing students with opportunities to develop academic-level language skills and facilitating a smoother transition into higher education institutions in Türkiye.

Application and Registration:

Students can complete their applications and registration online at aoskayit.anadolu.edu.tr.
